

Trainer

SUCCESSFUL STUDENTS START WITH HEALTHY TEACHERS

This workshop leads participants through an empowering and uplifting conversation about the critical steps schools and educators must take to ensure that schools are not only great places for students to learn, but also great places for teachers to teach. Based on the Developmental Asset framework and led by Nathan Eklund, author of How Was Your Day at School?: Improving Dialogue about Teacher Job Satisfaction, this training connects the same strength based, positive model used with students to the workplace and lives of educators.

Who Should Attend? Classroom educators, administration, support staff, and school boards.

“Nathan’s session was the highlight of this conference. It was practical, helpful, and refreshing.”
- 2009 BOOST Conference

“My light bulb moment! Nathan’s energy and honest made this conference an engaging and helpful experience”
—Healthy Communities·Healthy Youth Conference

Would you like Nathan to consult your staff?

1 800 294 4322G